2010

Round 1

Description of the projects selected for funding

ACTION 1 – YOUTH FOR EUROPE

ACTION 1.1 – YOUTH EXCHANGE

REFERENCE: 175519-1.1-DE-2010-R1

TITLE: Bruckenschlag: Kunst

Description:

Die Jugendlichen sind an der Gestaltung der Begegnung aktiv beteiligt. So werden sie bereits im Vorfeld nach ihren inhaltlichen Interessen und Neigungen gefragt, um das Programm auf sie abstimmen zu können. Die Jugendlichen wählen selbst aus dem Workshopangebot aus, für welches Thema bzw. welche Kunstform sie sich interessieren, so dass sie dann auch eine höhere Motivation mitbringen sich zu engagieren. Gerade für die Jugendlichen mit einer geistigen Behinderung ist dieser Ansatz etwas Besonderes, da sie in ihrem Alltag häufig in Entscheidungsprozesse nicht mit einbezogen werden. Die Musik ist dabei ein gutes Mittel, um eine gleichberechtigte Partizipation zu erreichen. Während die einen Jugendlichen möglicherweise schwierige Instrumente spielen und Stücke selbst "komponieren" können, sind die anderen immerhin in der Lage zu trommeln und ein Rhythmusgefühl zu entwickeln. Die Jugendlichen können an vielen Stellen des Programms wählen, für welche Workshops und Methoden sie sich interessieren, so dass sie selbst "ihr" Programm zusammen basteln können. Um auch Jugendlichen mit einer (schweren) kognitiven Behinderung diese eigenständigen Entscheidungen zu ermöglichen wird während der Brückenschlag-Reihe die SIVUS-Methode (vgl. Janßen 2009: SIVUS. Ein Modell ganzheitlichen Lernens) angewendet. Die Methode geht von einem dialogischen Menschenbild aus und davon, dass vor allem durch eigenständiges Handeln und in Gruppe gelernt werden kann. Sie ist ein wichtiger Schritt auf dem Weg von der Bevormundung zur Selbstbestimmung. Bei dem Projekt kommen Menschen aus vier europäischen Ländern zusammen, die sich und ihre kulturellen Hintergründe kennen lernen wollen. Es ist dabei wichtig, Kultur nicht nur als Nationalkultur zu betrachten, sondern anzuerkennen, dass jeder der Teilnehmenden seine eigenen kulturellen Hintergründe mit in das Projekt einbringt (z.B. unterscheidet sich die Biographie eines Mehrheits-Westdeutschen deutlich von der eines Deutsch-Polen, der in Ostdeutschland lebt. Doch gelten beide auf den ersten Blick nur als Deutsche). Diese kulturelle Diversität anzuerkennen und gegensätzliche Herangehensweisen zu akzeptieren, erfordert von den Teilnehmenden eine hohe Ambiguitätstoleranz. Gerade diese Toleranz für Anderes und auf den ersten Blick Fremdes kann im Verlauf der Begegnung entstehen, da die Jugendlichen bei Musik und Tanz, merken, dass sie auch sehr gut mit Menschen aus einer ganz anderen Kultur zusammenarbeiten können. Diese Erkenntnis soll auf den sozialen Alltag während der Jugendbegegnung übertragen werden, so dass Barrieren und Hemmschwellen im Umgang miteinander abgebaut werden. Das Musizieren und Tanzen sind dabei zwei Elemente, um über kulturelle Grenzen hinweg miteinander zu kommunizieren.

TITLE: Brückenschlag: Musik

DESCRIPTION: Die Projektreihe "Brückenschlag" bringt Jugendliche mit und ohne Behinderung aus verschiedenen europäischen Ländern zusammen. Das multinationale Projekt "Brückenschlag: Musik" ist das dritte inklusive Projekt der Reihe. Insgesamt werden 40 Jugendliche mit und ohne Behinderungen aus Polen, Deutschland, Tschechien und der Slowakei zusammen kommen, um gemeinsam Musik zu machen, zu hören und zu tanzen. Die Musik hilft dabei Grenzen zwischen den Ländern, und möglichen Behinderungen zu überschreiten und dient als Mittel zur Verständigung.

Das Projekt "Brückenschlag: Musik" verfolgt einen inklusiven Ansatz. So treffen Jugendliche zusammen, die sich in ihrem Alltag kaum begegnen. Für die kognitiv behinderten Jugendlichen ist es eine wichtige Erfahrung, in einer großen Gruppe ernst- und angenommen zu werden. Für die "nicht-behinderten Jugendlichen" ist es wichtig, ihren Horizont zu erweitern und die Schwachen der Gesellschaft persönlich kennen zu lernen. Alle lernen dabei Hemmschwellen zu überwinden und Vorurteile abzubauen.

Die Musik und der Tanz werden so einen Beitrag dazu leisten, dass die Jugendlichen eine tolerante und völkerverbindende Gesellschaft erleben und selbst mitgestalten. Diese Erfahrungen werden die Jugendlichen in ihre Heimatstädte transportieren. Die Forderung des Reformpädagogen und Kreisauer Widerstandskämpfers Adolf Reichwein, dass sich "Wert und Wirksamkeit einer Erziehungsgemeinschaft ist untrüglich am Stande ihrer Sorgenkinder abzulesen" wird bei der Projektreihe aufgenommen und umgesetzt.

TITLE: European rural youth summer camp: Let us give a better image of European villages!

Description: From the 16th to the 22nd of August 2010, MIJARC Europe will organize in cooperation with the Polish youth organisation EIR, a multilateral youth exchange in Poland for 50 young people living in the rural areas and coming from 9 countries in Europe.

The main theme of the whole event is "Active European Citizenship for promoting a better image of European villages" and aims at making the participants aware of their European Citizenship and the active role they can play in the development of rural areas, and especially in promoting a better image of their own villages, as a way to prevent youth migrations.

In addition, this youth exchange will contribute to get to know what is Europe by meeting young people from other member states and experiencing cultural diversity and intercultural learning. It will also aims at raising participants' awareness about realities of rural areas in Europe (such as youth unemployment, youth migrations) and global challenges Europe has to face (such as climate change, biodiversity loss, sustainable development).

At the end of the project, the participants will publish a booklet entitled "Let's give a better image to our European villages!" that will be spread within their local communities.

TITLE: Artigo

DESCRIPTION: The youth exchange project "Artigo" will take place in a Youth Centre in Lisboa, Portugal, from October 10 until October 17, 2010 with the participation of 32 youngsters from Portugal, France, Romania and Italy. The groups will be composed of youngsters between the ages of 18 and 30 and a group leader (it is not required, but it would be good if the leader has musical and technical competence).
The project will focus on including youngsters with fewer opportunities (discrimination, with a low standard of living, disabilities or learning difficulties, immigrants, youngsters from the suburbs, etc.) to improve their non-formal education, trans-national mobility, participation, active citizenship, empowerment and inclusion in society at large.
The project focuses on the subject of human rights through artistic mediums - using music, composition, video-art and multimedia. The title "Artigo" refers to the human rights articles that will be the starting point and background of all the activities.
The objective of the project is to encourage participants to create individually and collectively tracks (music, lyrics, poems with music, readings, beats, video clips, etc.) and graphics for a DVD which will feature all the diverse material that was created. All the technical devices necessary for carrying out the activities will be provided by the Youth Centre.

Title: Dialoguing through participation

Description: YFU's core work is intercultural dialogue and youth participation as a large network of young volunteers in YFU makes it possible for hundreds of young Europeans to participate in long term youth exchanges every year. The young volunteers who are active locally to help train, support and counsel the exchange students and their host families work closely on the development intercultural competences. Recently, it has become clear that a large number of organisations are increasingly faced with the challenge of attracting young people to become involved as volunteers. While the YFU community seeks to nurture intercultural competences as an integral component of intercultural dialogue and a key part of social and civic competences, there is a growing need to find ways in which to share and develop more up-to-date tools to foster and measure the intercultural competences. In Dialoguing through participation, one volunteer from YFU Norway and one volunteer from YDA Turkey will participate in a 12 month Group EVS project at European Educational Exchanges - Youth for Understanding in Brussels, Belgium to find innovative and creative ways to encourage youth participation and to collect and find new ways to share and promote tools which support the development and measurement of intercultural competences.

Title: Intercultural youth action - Civil Society against Discrimination

Description: This EVS group project mainly takes place at the international secretariat of UNITED for Intercultural Action in Amsterdam (NL). It includes two volunteers, one from Russia and one from Spain. Both volunteers will do a 12 months service at UNITED each. The involvement of two volunteers with different cultural and geographical background aims to enhance their mutual understanding, sharing of experiences and intercultural learning effect. In that way the project enables to identify and address a so called "East-West shift" concerning the different types and ways of civil society, active citizenship, social and political situation, historical backgrounds etc. The volunteers support the annual UNITED campaigns against racism and anti-Semitism by empowering NGOs all over Europe, creating and distributing campaign/info material and by producing an action agenda for active youth groups and organisations in the working field of UNITED. Furthermore they are involved in the preparation and implementation of at least one international UNITED conference, with more than 70 participants from different European countries and with diverse cultural backgrounds. Active participation of the volunteers in the conference(s) is planned. The well-established information- and networking-tools of the pan-European UNITED network enable the volunteers to work in a professional environment. An educational factor is the involvement in the local working-living community in Amsterdam, where the UNITED secretariat is a part from. Through local examples in the Netherlands the volunteers experience new methods and ways of community building and empowerment of a common social responsibility in society. By working together within an intercultural/international team the volunteers are able to identify common European values and what it means to be an active European citizen.

Title: Rehabilitation Centre for Disabled Children

Description: The project takes place in KAAPV, a state institution located in a suburb of Athens, Greece, housing 88 multiply disabled children and young people who have been abandoned by their families. The main themes of the project are anti-discrimination and disability, the objectives are to improve the childrens' quality of life, to act as a link between the institution and the society, and thirdly the personal development of the volunteer. This is achieved partly by empowering the volunteers to organize integration activities (the volunteers work in groups or individually to design activities such as alternative school, sports, disability awareness-raising games and events in local community, shopping in the local vegetable market) and give care, stimulation and love to the children who spend most of their time doing nothing. And partly through the community life the volunteer shares with the other volunteers from different cultures. Finally, the volunteers gain not only valuable skills and experience which may be useful in their future career but also a sense of interculturality, responsibility and social involvement.

The group EVS project includes 18 volunteers from Argentina, Belgium, Finland, Spain and France, with 1 year duration for most volunteers and 3-6 months for volunteers with fewer opportunities.

Title: Short term EVS for social inclusion of young people

Description: The Short Term EVS for social inclusion of young people aims to engage youth with fewer opportunities in a diverse range of activities, such as the provision of education and services, community and environmental action that will support their social inclusion and integration. In this regards the project contributes to a cohesive society creating bonds of trust and solidarity and, thus, social capital. The project will provide space for 15 young people from 5 countries (Macedonia, Italy, Iceland, Poland and Russia) with diverse religions, socio- economic backgrounds and ages to contribute to positive change in another country thus to stimulate active and responsible European citizenship, which is central to European ideals and values of democracy, solidarity and participation. The volunteers will be hosted in 4 countries (Macedonia, Poland, Iceland and Italy) for a period of one month. The project provides space for the volunteers to gain and exercise competences in leadership, communication and organisation skills, to extend their social networks and increase the possibility for them to move on to paid jobs in the future. The volunteering provides non-formal learning opportunities and is therefore a crucial instrument in the life-long learning. The project will aim to develop awareness of the volunteers about openness to learn and improve, as well as initiate a process of self-directed learning that would help a lot in the follow-up and sustainability of the project. Thus a web platform will be established to share the different experiences. There are two types of activities where the volunteers will be involved: "Running workshops for local young people using artistic tools such as painting, acting and other tools that can be useful for group learning."Rural and urban development activities linked with the personal development of the EVS volunteers as well as the local community development.

Title: European Voluntary Service to Combat Poverty en Argentina

Description: Our project is determined to combat social exclusion, poverty and especially youth unemployment in both Argentina and Germany. We will send ten volunteers, among them five stipendaries with lower opportunities, for six months to Cordoba in Argentina where we already realized one EVS. Each of them will live in a different house and work in its own project. The chosen projects are all determined to support people in Argentina that suffer poverty, especially children and teenagers. The former volunteers contributed their gained work-experience in Cordoba to the selection of the NGOs which guarantees the efficiency of the service. They also offered to function as partners for the volunteers and talk about the local circumstances. This will prepare the volunteers and make the service even more efficient. On the one hand the volunteers will be able to actively combat poverty in Argentina, and on the other hand they will gain important competences, consciousness about reasons and solutions for poverty and also lose their prejudices among other groups of society (even within their own group), which all in all shall promote integration, better opportunities for disadvantaged teenagers and the combating of poverty and social exclusion in Germany itself. During the training courses our pedagogical staff will make sure that the volunteers will form a self-contained group, think and talk about their own lives and opportunities in comparison to Argentina and evaluate their experience in questionnaires. We also want to offer an adequate preparation of Spanish, extra courses for the volunteers with lower opportunities and mentors from the Goethe-Institute in Cordoba for all the volunteers.

"WAVE - W(orlwide) A(ctive) V(olunteers) in E(urope)" takes place in the framework of both Euro House Network and the Pilot Programme Strategic Partnership for Local Active Partnership that is run jointly by ARDR with City halls and coordinating schools from Gorj and Dolj county as well as both Gorj and Dolj County Councils and Youth and Sport Direction. "WAVE" is to gather 38 volunteers from 13 different countries spread over 3 continents - 20 volunteers from Programme Countries, 10 from Neighbouring Partner Countries and 8 volunteers from Other Partner Countries of the World (Latin America and Africa)- for a period of 9 months, to spend a rather challenging self discovery and personal building experience. The volunteers are going to start their service in 2 equal groups in two different periods: September 15th, 2010 - June 15th, 2011 - Gorj County and October 1st, 2010 - July 1st, 2011 - Dolj County. The project is being hosted in 18 rural and small urban communities from 2 neighbouring Counties:

- Gorj County (Bustuchin, Balteni, Hurezani, Lelesti, Motru, Musetesti, Rovinari, Targu Carbonești and Tismana)

- Dolj County Amarastii de Jos, Bailesti, Carcea, Calafat, Dabuleni, Daneti, Giurgita, Gighera and Malu Mare

The project aims both towards social and personal growth of volunteers and beneficiary target group along with organizational and community sustainable development by bringing added value to existing activities and implementing new ones which stimulate the intercultural learning process, encourage active participation of youngsters, especially those with fewer opportunities and strengthen the international partnership.

WAVE is continuing the initiatives developed by the previous EVS projects, the starting period of the EVS placements offering the volunteers the opportunity to meet their peers and have sufficient time to learn, experience and take over the activities/ projects in the hosting communities. The key themes that are to be followed along the project are rural and urban development and using non formal educational methods (such as animation) for encouraging and increasing the active participation of youngsters in their local communities. This opportunity to meet the other volunteers will insure an easier and better cultural, organizational and even community accommodation of the new volunteers as long as they will have some time to take over the current activities/initiatives.

Title: Share yourself

Description: Share yourself aims to promote volunteering experiences with following aims:

- To promote solidarity and tolerance
- To increase social cohesion among European youngsters
- To promote active citizenship and contacts between youngsters of different countries.
- To offer opportunities of non-formal education to 15 youngsters with low opportunities

Beneficiaries are youngsters between 16 and 30 years old with low opportunities coming from 3 different social neighbourhoods (suburbs) located in Loures, the north-west city just out of Lisbon.

In those 3 neighbourhoods we have many cases of youngsters considered "with low opportunities" due to low school attendance, to inadequate economical conditions, to situations of social exclusion that has as direct consequence the lack of self-esteem and of general interest in what is happening around them.

The low capacity of search for existing opportunities by themselves induces them to the auto-exclusion and turns necessary our monitoring and social intervention. In this way we always discover that under the skin of apparent non-interested people as they look like, they reveal a great potential of energy and skills overall concerning artistic and creative fields.

AMC will be the Coordinating and Sending Organization and our partners are the Hosting Organizations: each partner will host small groups of volunteers. Duration of the service of the volunteers will last 1 or 2 months (see detailed schedule) being short term projects. Every Organization has different plans for the volunteers but all of them works on Citizenship, the promotion of participation of youngsters and the breaking of social barriers through the promotion of the cultural diversities. The languages and the methods are inserted in the context of non-formal education that permits the youngsters to express themselves in creative and personal ways.

Title: Gender Sensitivity at Voluntary Work

Description:

At the occasion of the 100th anniversary of the celebration of the 1st International Women Day in 1911, as well as of the celebration of 2011 as both the European Year of Volunteering and the UN International year of Volunteers +10, CCIVS will run a centralized group EVS project addressing gender issues in International Voluntary Service (IVS) and youth programmes: "Gender sensitivity at (voluntary) work".

The project, which takes into account the importance given by the European Commission and the UN to Gender Equality as a prerequisite to achieve the Millennium Development Goals (MDGs) and build sustainable societies, as well as the priority given to the African continent in terms of development cooperation, is the first concrete outcome of the ongoing Africa-Europe project "Culture meets Concepts" (145091-3.2-FR-2008-R1), which took place during the year 2009.

The project aims at exploring gender roles in different societies and linking the general reflections on gender sensitivity to the participation of young women and men in IVS projects and their interaction in diverse cultural contexts. The wide range of field projects, while practically addressing key development issues and national priorities - from education to climate change, from HIV prevention to youth and women employment - will thus see a progressive introduction of the gender perspective, and generate productive exchanges and learning processes on this topic for both the volunteers and the hosting communities.

Eighteen volunteers from CCIVS member organisations in Austria, Belgium, Estonia, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Sweden and the UK will be hosted for a 6-months period in the African continent, where CCIVS member organisations in Ghana, Kenya, Lesotho, Malawi, Mozambique, Nigeria, Togo, Uganda and Zambia. After a first period of research, the volunteers will organise targeted actions to promote culturally appropriate gender sensitivity activities in IVS projects and with the hosting communities, using and developing specific non-formal education tools. An EVS in CCIVS office will follow the programme, working in particular on the development of a gender sensitivity tool-kit and promoting gender as a key cultural issue in international voluntary service projects, at the occasion of the celebration of 2011 as both the European Year of Volunteering and the UN International year of Volunteers +10.

Description: Freshwater ecosystems are strongly affected by man, principally through contamination, fragmentation and manipulation of the flows, as well as climate change. In this sense, the NGO 'Los Algarrobos' has developed a global framework that pursues the rational management of the Rio Grande river basin, situated on the northwest region of Argentina, Tres Cruces, and whose path follows the 'Quebrada de Humahuaca', declared a UNESCO Natural and Cultural Patrimony of Humanity (UNESCO 2003).
The volunteers will collaborate actively with this association on this project, attributing their knowledge on environmental subject matter, encouraging the participation of local populations living in the Rio Grande river basin to improve their living conditions, through the integration of sustainable practices in their production processes (agriculture, livestock, use of forest resources, etc.) as well as the promotion of conservation values that will generate lasting benefits in their communities after the completion of the European Volunteer Service.

Titre: Act for Eur Hope

Description: "Act for EurHope" donnera la possibilité à 59 jeunes de partir en SVE sur du court (20) et/ou du long terme (39) dans des pays du programme : Allemagne, France, Italie, Grèce, Hongrie, Portugal, Royaume Uni, Slovénie, Suède, Turquie, ainsi que des pays partenaires : Algérie, Bénin, Bosnie Herzégovine, Macédoine, Maroc, Russie, Ukraine, Vietnam. Les thématiques proposées sont diverses (animations jeunesse, sport, culture, environnement, média) avec des priorités transversales comme la citoyenneté européenne, le dialogue interculturel, l'éducation non formelle et le développement durable.

Ce projet a pour ambition de permettre à des jeunes urbains et ruraux de tous horizons de profiter d'une première expérience de volontariat à l'étranger, avec une action particulière visant des jeunes exclus socialement, ou sans emploi. L'objectif est d'inscrire la mobilité internationale dans un parcours valorisant qui peut faciliter la réinsertion socio-professionnelle du jeune. L'accompagnement du volontaire sera jalonné par un réseau de partenaires locaux et transnationaux avant, pendant et après la mobilité pour lui permettre de développer son propre projet et de rebondir sur une dynamique positive. Il a été conçu en parallèle au projet innovant que nous portons actuellement sur l'accompagnement à la mobilité internationale des jeunes ayant moins d'opportunités dans le cadre du Fonds d'Expérimentation pour la jeunesse du Haut Commissariat à la Jeunesse en France.

Titre: EUROMEDINCULTURE La mobilité des jeunes comme facteur d'inclusion et de développement

Description: Le projet a pour objectif de permettre à des jeunes de l'Europe et de la Méditerranée de vivre, dans le cadre du SVE, une expérience concrète, dans une organisation impliquée dans le domaine culturel, dans un autre pays que le leur. En moyenne, la durée des services est de 10 mois, ils se déroulent dans 7 pays différents de l'espace euro-méditerranéen. Les jeunes seront impliqués dans toutes les activités des organisations d'accueil, artistiques, organisationnelles, administratives, et connaîtront, par le biais culturel, la richesse de la vie locale et régionale et la diversité des expressions culturelles et artistiques. Les jeunes auront l'occasion de découvrir un environnement riche et vivant grâce à l'implication des organisations d'accueil dans la vie de leur entourage. Ils seront également en relation suivie avec d'autres jeunes puisque, au maximum, ils seront placés en colocation et seront également invités aux rencontres régulières organisées, pour eux, par les différents intervenants du dispositif. Enfin, la coordination assurera les moyens de préparation, de suivi, d'accompagnement et les outils facilitant la mise en œuvre du projet pour aboutir à des expériences de qualité qui permettent, à chaque jeune, une intégration réussie au retour dans son pays d'origine.

Title: Youth and Social Cohesion

Description: Youth and Social Cohesion is a project which includes 10 of our European and international partners in Youth in Action network. It concerns: sending 52 volunteers from France and hosting 11 volunteers from Italy, Poland, Moldova, United Kingdom and Belgium for duration between 3 weeks and 2 months. Activities in foreign countries will take place in Belgium, Italy, Germany, Moldova, Poland, Portugal, United Kingdom and Vietnam. Activities of the projects have been conceived with our partners in order to facilitate the integration of youngsters with fewer opportunities and to develop autonomy and other social skills. These short durations are meant as an initiation to mobility and may encourage volunteers to get involved on a longer term project. Volunteers will be involved in social, educational and leisure activities, mostly with young children and teenagers, but also disabled or elderly people. Their activities will also include the promotion of international mobility among local community and their European awareness. The project aims to:

- Promote the social inclusion of youngsters with fewer opportunities, for whom mobility can be a constructive step;
- Develop a support system to facilitate mobility process and continuation;
- Encourage youngsters to get involved on a longer term;
- Raise social and intercultural awareness;
- Promote the citizen involvement of young generations, in the context of new global challenges.

The support system built by ADICE (in cooperation with its international partners) to accompany youngsters will include its previous experience as sending and hosting organization, pedagogical tools and self-evaluation.

Title: Capacity Building Stage XIV

Description: The goal of the group EVS-project "Capacity Building Stage XIV" is to promote volunteering and youth activism and to improve cooperation and networking among NGOs. The hosting projects directly involve people from disadvantaged backgrounds and socially excluded parts of the society. Volunteers are going to assist in centres for socially disadvantaged and/or disabled children, youth and elderly people, provide non-formal learning possibilities and promote volunteering. The activities not only support the target groups directly, but the presence of international EVS volunteers brings public attention to the existing problems and the worthwhile work of the hosting organisations.

Building on previous experiences and quality assessments "Capacity Building Stage XIV" aims to continue the cooperation with those hosting projects that were most satisfying for previous volunteers and gain sustainability. We also aim to further extend the programme to give new hosting partners and projects the chance to strengthen their structure and benefit from the intercultural dialogue offered by the EVS exchange. 20 young volunteers from Germany, the Netherlands, Ireland, Poland, Italy, Belgium, Czech Republic, Iceland and France will spend 10 months in projects of our partners in Russia, Ukraine, Azerbaijan and Moldova.

Title: Puppets in Action

Description:

"Puppets is Action" is a follow up of the training course: "The Puppet Power - Inclusion through Puppet Theatre". It's a project that raises inclusion and diversity awareness through puppetry. Aim is to give participants greater knowledge and skills to use the medium of puppetry in their daily life and work with youngsters, especially with youngsters with fewer opportunities, in order to make the youth work more "inclusive" and "culturally diverse".

The project uses puppets to tell stories, create possible solutions and disseminate information on discrimination, intolerance and exclusion in an informal and often humorous way. The working programme combines the three processes: of puppet busker theatre, inclusion and intercultural learning. The final performance will trigger discussions about inclusion and include interaction between the audience (local community) and the "Puppets in Action" participants.

The activity will take in place in Subotica - Mali Idjos, Serbia from 22nd until 29th of August 2010. It will involve 32 participants from 6 countries and 3 different parts of Europe: member states of ED, South-East Europe and Eastern Europe and Caucasus. Title: Intercultural mobile

Description: INTERCULTURAL MOBILE is a 10 days initiative to be held in Kraquievac (Serbia) with participants from Serbia, Italy, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Croatia, Slovenia and Germany (42 participants in total). The project asks the participants to get involved into an intercultural mapping of the territory using their own mobile phones as video (or photo) cameras and then connecting their own point of views, collected in such a way, into a couple of original final media products (video and website) through a specific common workshop with the support of local experts. The project is a way to discover the territory, to share your own opinions about it and to trace and propose your own path through the place, raising attention on what you consider important and underlining particulars that maybe even residents didn't notice before. The initiative can in this way contribute to social awareness and inclusion, youth participation, intercultural learning and increased European citizenship by discovering a place which then after will belong to every foreign participant, as well as to locals, who'll get a better and complete image of their own town. The whole the project will take care of involving especially socially marginalized youngsters too, increasing their knowledge about the place they live, not only for hosting country, but - when this methodology would be applied - also in the other promoters' home countries.

The name of this multilateral 9-days youth exchange is "We (d²) + ing = trends across the cultures". "We (d²) + ing = trends across the cultures" means that our wedding is in fact: (we) as partners are in the dialogue of diversities, which is one of the most important trends in modern cultures. As well as the more obvious cultural differences that exist between people, such as language or music, there are also great varieties in the wedding traditions and customs among cultures, ethnic groups, religions, countries, and social groups. That's why the main aim of the project is to develop solidarity and promote tolerance, foster mutual understanding between young people in different countries through exploring cultural diversity, through social inclusion, active and creative participation in intercultural dialogue and finding innovative solutions of the common problems in gender relations, women rights and poverty. 37 young people from Macedonia, Serbia, Albania, Estonia, Lithuania and France will meet in Macedonia. Using methods such as experiential learning, theatre, pantomime and intercultural learning we will try to find differences and similarities between understanding of young people about relationship, gender roles family, marriage and wedding traditions. Results of exchange will be presented in a street-performance "Wedding of my dream" with local people and in a photo exhibition showing Innovative ideas about modern wedding that can be used as a learning material about participating countries.

(borders+barriers)=Peace + Understanding

Description: "Creative Mathematics in Multicultural Europe" - International Youth Convention, is an annual event of YEU International since 1983 that uses non-formal education that will require young people to be active and creative in a 'mathematical equation' Young People - (borders + barriers) = Peace + Understanding. 75 participants from 25 different European and Mediterranean countries will focus on finding solutions to the equation and identify creative and innovative methods for removing borders and barriers in Europe and its neighbourhood at both macro and micro levels which threaten our peace and stability.

The participants will consider borders and barriers in all their forms including geographical borders and social barriers. Special emphasis will be placed on the barriers which young people with disabilities in Europe face and for this reason young people with disabilities will be prioritised for participation in the exchange as both leaders and participants. Attention will also be given to the specific areas in Europe and our neighbouring countries where geographical border disputes threaten peace in Europe.

The activity will take place in Ukraine between 14 and 26 August 2010 in three different locations: Lviv, Odessa and Kiev. Accommodation will be in home stays with Ukrainian families and also in youth hostel accommodation. Ukraine with its specific border situation bordering with many EU, other European countries and the Black Sea will provide an idea! and unique setting to discuss this subject. The project is already supported by European Youth Foundation that will bring additional participants and contribute to greater diversity in the traditional event.

REFERENCE:175689-3.1-PT-2010-R1*Title:*Mainstreaming Gender issues in organising youth exchanges and training courses on international Level -Road to gender equality*Description:

The main aim of this training course is to train participants about how to ensure that gender issues are mainstreamed and taken into account in planning and implementing International Youth Exchanges and Training Courses. YEU and our member organisations consistently maintain high quality standard organizing, implementing, evaluating and securing an effective follow up of the activities but we believe that an improvement is needed related to awareness of gender issues in this process. This training course, held in Azerbaijan will involve 36 active leaders active on the international level between 18 and 30 years old, from all over Europe and North of Africa. Four trainers will lead this course using non-formal education methods.

By improving the capacity for gender mainstreaming in the trainees we expect to improve the quality standard of the exchanges and training courses organized within the network and the partners. In this way we aim to combat discrimination and promote equality of opportunities and participation regardless of gender. This increase in awareness and competences in gender issues will also have a multiplier effect in the local work of the member organisations and in the wider society increasing the potential of the network and our partners to combat discrimination and promote European values of equality in all areas of society.

Different perspectives concerning gender will be taken into account especially those related to cultural, religious and social backgrounds. Recent YEU experiences of activities in Azerbaijan on European Citizenship and the IYEU on Inter-religious Dialogue in Albania also funded by YiA have shown us that this is important. The specific experiences and perspectives of the Roma and Muslim communities in Europe regarding gender equality will be given special attention. In this content the idea of Azerbaijan was chosen to host the training course and partners were chosen from countries with significant Roma minorities in order to be able to provide an authentic reference. Point to the complexities of gender issues that exist across Europe and that we are obliged to deal with in our international activities.

Title: Diversity beyond trapped barriers

Description: Taking into consideration that contact between people from different cultures does not automatically lead to improved mutual understanding and that many people feel unable to cope with or even threatened by the presence of persons with customs and habits rooted in other cultures, the TC "Diversity beyond trapped barriers" is aimed to question typical approaches of Intercultural learning within youth work with regard to qualification requirements of youth workers involved and to what and how young people should be taught within the context of intercultural youth work. Therefore the participants of the project will face during the course three main priority learning areas for intercultural learning processes as perception structures, social attitudes and the resulting types of behaviour; understanding that the overall aim of any initial or future projects must be intercultural learning - as a principle for the learning processes within these activities themselves and as the general objective of European youth work.

Title: Where Does Europe End - Regional Identity

Description: AEGEE established the Where Does Europe End project out of interest and concern for the future European integration and cooperation. The project intends to collect as many different opinions as possible from European citizens, answering questions with regard to their concept of Europe, their identity within Europe, and their attitude towards European integration. During the convention in León, Spain, 25 participants from different European countries come together to examine the physical and mental "borders" of Europe in the perception of ordinary citizens. In the course of five days, a number of street actions are carried out in different locations in and around León, interviewing people in public spaces about their point of view and attitude towards Europe. Based on the results of these actions, various evaluation and discussion units take place in cooperation with local representatives of the political and academic world and civil society, trying to understand the local citizens' concept of Europe. As a second major part of the programme, in different lectures and workshops it will be investigated and discussed how important regional identity is for European citizens today, and what the role of regions will be in a European future. After interviewing local citizens in León and exploring the relevance of sub-national identity in Europe today, the participants will visit the Spanish Senate in Madrid and conclude the conference, discovering what was intended to be the chamber of regions of Spain when it was founded, and meeting politicians for a final debate about the question: Where does Europe end?

Titel: Kreisauer Modell : Training : Advanced

Description: Das Kreisauer Modell ist ein zweiteiliger Trainingskurs, bei welchem sich einerseits Behindertenarbeiter/innen internationalisieren und andererseits internationale Jugendarbeiter/innen ermutigt werden, ihren Projekte eine integrative/inklusive Perspektive zu verleihen. Die Kreisau-Initiative Berlin e.V. bietet seit 2007 vergleichbare Trainingskurse an, ab 2010 sollen die Kurse in einem zweistufigen Modell (Basic und Advanced) angeboten werden. Gerade das mehrstufige Verfahren ermöglicht eine qualitativ wertvolle Ausbildung, die die Teilnehmer weiterentwickelt und sie befähigt nach der Ausbildung selbst aktiv Projekte zu entwickeln und zu gestalten. Der vorliegende Antrag bezieht sich auf den Advanced-Trainingskurs, der in dieser Form im Januar 2011 stattfinden wird. Bei dem fünftägigen Advanced-Trainingskurs wird 30 Teilnehmenden in Kreisau (Polen) vermittelt, wie internationale Projekte mit Jugendlichen mit einer kognitiven und/oder mehrfachen Behinderung organisiert und durchgeführt werden. Die Inhalte des Kurses reichen vom vertieften Projektmanagement über die Finanzakquise (insbesondere Fördermöglichkeiten durch das Programm JUGEND) bis zu konkreten Methoden wie man mit internationalen inklusiven Gruppen arbeiten kann. Bei dem vorliegenden Training werden vor allem künstlerische Methoden (Theater, Musik, Töpfern) im Vordergrund stehen. Die Teilnehmenden haben vorher an einem "Basic" Trainingskurs (März 2010 oder November 2010) teilgenommen und bringen so die nötigen Qualifikationen für den Advanced-Kurs mit. Alle Trainingskurse wurden/ werden bei dem Programm JUGEND beantragt. Bei dem Trainingskurs werden Experten/innen aus Behindertenheimen, der Behindertenarbeit und der internationalen Begegnungsarbeit referieren bzw. Workshops leiten. Die erfahrenen zweisprachigen Trainer/innen des Projekts werden für eine ausgewogene Mischung aus kreativen Lernmethoden, Erfahrungslernen und inhaltlichen Inputs sorgen. Die wichtigsten Ziele des Kreisauer Modells sind: die Qualifizierung von engagierten jungen Menschen, um internationale Projekte für kognitiv behinderte Menschen durchzuführen. Dadurch steht bei dem Trainingskurs die Zielgruppe der behinderten Jugendlichen im Fokus der Fortbildung. So leistet der Kurs mittelfristig die einen wichtigen Beitrag zur Inklusion von behinderten Menschen in die europäische Gesellschaft.

Title: Exchangology! Sustainable youth exchanges - reducing the environmental impact of international youth exchanges

Description: In a world where our political leaders have failed in recent months to reach an international agreement concerning climate change the role that individuals and civil society organisations play in ensuring sustainability of our planet is more important than ever.

As organisations that actively promote the international mobility of young people, especially with the opportunities offered by Youth in Action and invariably by plane, the partners in this project recognise the need to standardise the introduction, in all stages of our activities (planning, implementation and follow up), mechanisms to reduce the environmental impact of our youth exchanges. This means not only related to the travel we use but all resources we use in implementation of the activity eg. paper, food, electricity etc. This training course involving 30 youth leaders from 12 countries will introduce participants to the concept of Carbon Footprints and how to calculate the Footprint of an activity or action based on the carbon emissions it produces and give ideas and best practices example of how organisations can introduce carbon offsetting into the "budgets" of the activities. In this way, the participants will have the capacity when planning future international youth exchanges to measure the overall environmental impact of the activity taking into account the form of travel, electricity used, paper consumed, water consumed, food and how it is packaged and from where it is transported to the venue etc. Following this analysis the participants will then be trained to know how to use concrete methods and tools to contribute to sustainability in a positive way and so balance the negative impact of the activity creating where possible zéro carbon footprints for the overall activity.
