ACTION 1 – YOUTH FOR EUROPE

ACTION 1.1 – YOUTH EXCHANGE

REFERENCE: 187733-1.1-IT-2010-R2

TITLE: "Be Beautiful! Youth exchange on Health and Inclusion"

Description: 'BE BEAUTIFUL' is a youth exchange that does not deal directly with beauty, Beauty is only a result. It is the result of a healthy lifestyle and diet. Our exchange sees beauty as a final result of living without the products of society that have a short-term or long-term negative effect on our human bodies and in turn our beauty.

The project deals with the most important topics on health; nutrition, physical activity, alcohol, drug and tobacco consumption, mental and sexual health put together with the access of persons; (including persons with a disability or coming from lesser opportunity backgrounds), to health care and healthy living conditions, and combines them in the involvement of media, education and institutions in promoting and supporting a healthy life style, in order to prevent health problems, and guaranteeing a better access to health care.

The partners have been selected from members of our international network and organizations with which we wanted to increase partnerships. A total of 32 young people and 8 youth leaders will participate in this project. The participants all come from the European Union. The education methods and methodologies to be adopted during the exchange will be purely non-formal. An advanced planning visit will be held between the leaders before the project to ensure the success of the programme.

DESCRIPTION: Die Projektreihe "Brückenschlag" bringt Jugendliche mit und ohne Behinderung aus verschiedenen europäischen Ländern zusammen. An der multinationale Projektreihe nehmen Jugendliche mit und ohne Behinderungen aus Polen, Deutschland, Österreich, Tschechien und Rumänien teil.

Es kommen jeweils circa 40 junge Menschen zusammen kommen, um gemeinsame verschiedene Kunstformen auszuprobieren und zu begreifen (Brückenschlag: Art), Abenteuer zu bewältigen und erlebnispädagogisch zu arbeiten (Adventure) bzw. die Umwelt zu erleben und zu thematisieren (Nature). Die Teilnehmenden sollen die Chance haben sich in verschiedenen Bereichen zu versuchen, selbst Workshops zu wählen und sich "ihr" Programm zusammenzustellen. Art, Adventure und Nature helfen dabei Grenzen zwischen den Ländern, und möglichen Behinderungen zu überschreiten.

Die Reihe "Brückenschlag" verfolgt einen inklusiven Ansatz. So treffen Jugendliche zusammen, die sich in ihrem Alltag kaum begegnen. Für die kognitiv behinderten Jugendlichen ist es eine wichtige Erfahrung, in einer großen Gruppe ernst- und angenommen zu werden. Für die "nicht-behinderten Jugendlichen" ist es wichtig, ihren Horizont zu erweitern und die Schwachen der Gesellschaft persönlich kennen zu lernen. Alle lernen dabei Hemmschwellen zu überwinden und Vorurteile abzubauen.

Die Jugendlichen gestalten und leben so eine tolerante und völkerverbindende Gesellschaft. Diese Erfahrungen werden die Jugendlichen in ihre Heimatstädte transportieren. Die Forderung des Reformpädagogen und Kreisauer Widerstandskämpfers Adolf Reichwein, dass sich "Wert und Wirksamkeit einer Erziehungsgemeinschaft (...) untrüglich am Stande ihrer Sorgenkinder abzulesen [sei]," wird bei der Projektreihe aufgenommen und umgesetzt

Description: TRANSEUROPA festival is an innovative kind of public event which is simultaneously an artistic, cultural and political engagement taking place across national borders. It is at once a unitary festival and a transnational network of young individuals working together to embrace wider audiences. The festival embraces the values of shared political responsibility, free movement, travel, transnational communications and cultural and political exploration

The festival is structured so as to involve a group of young people in each of the participating cities for a period of several months leading up to the festival, making them the actual organisers and conceptualises of the events, thus promoting European citizenship and youth leadership.

With this application we wish to bring the festival to 5 European cities (London, Paris, Bologna, Cluj-Napoca, and Sofia), involving 25 young people (5 per city/group), who will meet once per month for 5 months (January to May) discussing crucial themes for European democracy (and specifically Migration, Environment, Education and youth Employment, Women Rights and Media), and working together to organise a public reflection of these events in a simultaneous transnational festival in the month June.

TITLE: Volunteer - Key to the Future!

DESCRIPTION: Volunteer- Key to the Future! is a Youth Democracy "Project, organised by Don Bosco Youth-Net IVZW as a celebration of volunteering. As such we see this project part of the European year of volunteering. Volunteer- Key to the Future! Applies the concept of representative democracy as a roadmap. All partner promoters start-off with a local meeting with their volunteers- On this meeting they will debate on the key themes of the project, and also select 2 volunteers to represent their organisation on the European youth congress. This congress is the main event of the project. Over 50, representing 25 organisations from 12 EU member states (AT, BE, CZ, DE, ES, IT, MT, NL, PL, SI, SK, UK) will attend this congress. The main aim of the congress is to debate on the challenges which volunteers face in their engagement. We will have some decision makers and experts in the field of volunteering attending, so the volunteers can meet them face-to-face in the debates. Next to this we will take a look to the opportunities volunteering has to offer. On the European youth congress the representatives for each promoter will debate on the same themes as on their local meeting. In this way they are bringing- the opinions of their local peers to the table as well. After the congress the representative, take part in a second local meeting where they* report back on the congress and start-up an initiative to support volunteering in their local organisation. At the end of the project we will produce a "sunshine report" to highlight the outcomes of the project.

Volunteer - Key to the Future! will last 9 months, starting in December 2010. The first local meeting are scheduled in February 2010. The congress takes place 10-13 May 2011 in Krakow, Poland. The second local meeting is scheduled April to June 2011. The last 2 months of the project are reserved for developing a "sunshine report".

ACTION 2 – EUROPEAN VOLUNTARY SERVICE

REFERENCE: 187025-2-PT-2010-R2

TITLE: Volversity! - Voluntary work as a way to increase employment opportunities and combat poverty.

DESCRIPTION: Volversity! will target the increased involvement of young people unemployed people in volunteering opportunities offered locally in the Algarve region of Portugal or internationally through YEU especially using the EVS programme. This EVS project will take place in Faro and will involve 2 volunteers and will last for 12 months. These volunteers will continue the work started by our two EVS volunteers in 2009 promoting the opportunities offered by youth in action using NFE methods amongst young people in the Algarve region.

The 2 volunteers be based in Portugal will contribute to the development of YEU Youth Volunteering and Resource Centre providing information, opportunities and advice about Europe and volunteering to young people from the local community, especially unemployed young people. Specific focus will be given to the possibilities offered to young people by Youth in Action and the positive benefits of volunteering. This will build on the significant work already undertaken by 2 EVS volunteers in 2009 in promoting Youth in Action in the local region.

The volunteers will play a crucial role in contributing to the targets set in the YEU work plan for increasing the involvement of young people with fewer opportunities in YEU work. We believe that through short term volunteering opportunities young people with fewer opportunities especially unemployed young people significantly increase their capacity and enthusiasm to commit to longer term voluntary and training opportunities offered by YEU and other civil society and youth organisations on the international level. To this end the EVS volunteers in addition to promoting long term and international volunteering opportunities amongst the young people in the Algarve they will also identify volunteer hosting organisations (NGOs, Companies, Services etc) that can host volunteers in their own communities in the Algarve.

Fully co-ordinated and supported by the 2 full time YEU staff members and a Volunteer EVS Co-ordinator from our Pool of Trainers working on a voluntary basis with the other mentors, these two volunteers will develop their own skills, awareness and knowledge about the issues connected to the participation of young people with fewer opportunities especially those that are unemployed. They will support and encourage the participation of the local young people where they are based and at the same time increase the capacity of YEU to further develop our long term strategy in the area of involving more young people from diverse backgrounds from local to international level.

TITLE:	Warriors without weapons - Learning youngsters to change their own community and environment

DESCRIPTION: Sending organisation Stichting Commundo offers a group of 15 youngsters from the Netherlands the opportunity to do voluntary work in Brazil. They will participate in the Warriors without weapons-program during one month. This methodology is developed by host organisation Instituto Elos. It relies on the main idea that we can change the world, starting right away, with the resources that are available, only we are not aware of. It is time to change our perception about how to collaborate in a collective way, to build a better world and to do so with pleasure. In order to do that, we use the global knowledge of all involved, directly or indirectly, and by the end of a month, we transform a collective dream into reality, even better than we first imagined.

Our goal is to introduce youth of action in the way of the Warrior Without Weapons. We aim, through practice and experience, to offer each participant to propose solutions and develop projects in their cities, regions and countries, answering to urgent social and environmental issues we share, respecting the unique identity of each community. So the main theme is urban/rural development.

For a month the participants work in a community in Santos, Brazil, and they execute a project using local construction techniques and attending to real needs of the tenants. During the program the participants are part of a group rich in cultural, social and economical diversity. There will be youth from different parts of the world participating, cooperating in a common challenge. In this way, we contribute to another main objective: to gain more understanding and cooperation between youngsters from different social, cultural and economic background.

The other main theme is minorities. Six of the Dutch volunteers will be youngsters with fewer opportunities, because their social, economic and cultural background. In Brazil, they will participate in the project in a poor neighbourhood, where many minorities are living. In this way, it is not only creating awareness of equality and unity, but truly experience this sense of unity AND having learned how to take positive action.

The experiences of these EVS activities will have a deep impact on the lives of all young people and the local community involved and we are convinced that this project generates positive effect on their perception of participation of people from underprivileged background, realising that everyone is able to change their own world, that they use this experience to change their own community.

Also the objective is to enlarge the personal and social development of both the Dutch and the Brazilian youngsters and to give rise to their mutual interest in two themes: Urban/rural development and minorities.

TITRE:	Accompagnement international auprès des communautés indigènes et acteurs des droits humains du Guatemala

DESCRIPTION: Les 3 volontaires participeront au projet d'accompagnement international au Guatemala. L'accompagnement protecteur non-violent consiste en une présence internationale auprès de personnes, groupes de personnes ou organisations civiles qui travaillent en faveur des droits humains, et étant potentiellement ou effectivement l'objet de violations de leurs droits. L'accompagnement répond à une demande formulée par la personne ou le groupe menacé, s'inscrit dans le cadre de la législation du pays, et respecte les principes de non-ingérence dans les activités menées par les accompagnés et d'impartialité face aux différentes parties en conflit.

Les volontaires partageront leur mission entre :

- L'accompagnement aux témoins des massacres du début des années 80 ayant posé une plainte pour actes de génocide. Les témoins sont au nombre de 120, répartis dans 23 communautés rurales.
- L'accompagnement à des organisations ou des activistes menacés du fait de leur travail dans la défense des droits de l'homme.

La mission du volontaire est de :

- Dissuader : sa présence physique auprès de la personne accompagnée doit avoir un rôle dissuasif, et donc permettre de limiter les menaces et intimidations.
- Documenter : il doit observer les éventuelles violations des droits de l'homme et les documenter.
- Divulguer : il doit permettre à la structure d'accompagnement de transmettre l'information au niveau national et international afin de dénoncer les éventuelles violations et ainsi de permettre la réalisation de lobbying politique si le cas le justifie.

Les accompagnateurs, en tant que ressortissants étrangers, sont à l'abri des menaces dans la mesure où les personnes qui commettent des exactions ne tiennent pas à attirer l'attention de la communauté internationale. Les programmes d'accompagnement sont tolérés par l'Etat guatémaltèque depuis 1985 et reconnus dans de nombreux textes comme les Accords de Paix de 1996. Une atteinte à l'intégrité physique d'un accompagnateur compliquerait très sérieusement les relations que le Guatemala possède avec les pays d'Europe et d'Amérique du Nord. Cela ne s'est strictement jamais produit.

TITLE:	Growing up together

DESCRIPTION: "Growing up together" is an EVS initiative coordinated by INGO Association, where international volunteers will have the opportunity to participate in the activities of 5 different Host Organizations (HO): "Villaggio SOS di Roma" (in the city of Rome), "Villaggio SOS di Saranno" (Saranno), "Villaggio SOS di Vicenza" (Vicenza), "SOS Villaggio di Mörösölb" (Morosolo) and VKE (Bolzano), all of them in Italy. It's a group Activity divided in 2 different EVS Activities: one in VKE and another one related with the SOS-Villages (seen that the volunteer will perform the same kind of activity during the same period, in very similar structures and will have the chance to share experiences between each other). "Villaggio SOS" takes care of children whose families are facing difficult situations and don't have the chance to watch them out and support them in their daily needs. In the several specific activities of the "Villaggio SOS", children and young people can experience a family atmosphere of peace and receive support to their physical and psychological growth. VKE, instead, aims to engage citizens' initiatives in favour of the right to play and play spaces for children and young people, but also more general to improve the life quality of children, youngsters and their families.

The 12 volunteers presented in this application are from Uruguay, Portugal, Turkey, Spain, Armenia, Hungary and Estonia. They will enjoy from this experience during a long term period (11 months). The volunteers will support the coordinator and the educators of the HOs in their work with the children and youngsters in different projects inside the respective structures. The volunteers will collaborate with the everyday-life activities (e.g. supporting-lunch time, picking children up from the school, accompanying them until the houses, etc) and organize and develop educational and specially free-time activities (games, sports, music workshops, painting, visit in a museum, etc). That's the reason why the themes involved are childcare and entertainment, besides the fact that we expect that volunteers, children, and teenagers can have the chance to learn from each other, growing up together!!!

DESCRIPTION:	The project consists of an 8 months individual EVS project hosted by AVES in Togo and sent by the Italian Association Joint. The main focus of this project is to protect and preserve the environment in its natural state. An on-field experience is needed in order to understand how the local indigenous communities function and so as to make this protection the most efficient possible. For this project local populations need to be made aware of the consequences of their natural environment's destruction and the depreciation of their biodiversity. The objective in the short run is to restore the environment but the bigger goal is to maintain it for the future generations. To do so, and to rehabilitate plants and animals, forest reforestation and restoration of natural patrimony such as groves, waterfalls and rivers, will be needed. This project will also be an opportunity to discover the local culture and how people live and proceed in these remote villages. Volunteers will hear the traditional songs, the stories and legends that make those populations, and take part during the whole process. Finally we want to underline activities such as agriculture, local trade and how these families live on a daily basis.

The main characteristics of the carnival are the archaic rituals, the mysterious mask and the art of improvisation. The carnival can be described like two days of total freedom, two days full of archaism, secretiveness and improvisation. According to its specific features, it differs from all other carnivals in the world, because it's a massive event in which everybody from the village takes part. TITLE:	Green rights
---------------	---------------------

DESCRIPTION: In nowadays context we are facing an increasing critical situation in matters of global warming and it becomes necessary to highlight the human rights implications of environmental issues. Many international documents have contributed to elaborate these concepts (from the Stockholm Declaration in 1972, until the Conference of Rio de Janeiro in 1992).

"Green rights" Youth exchange is a project which aims at bringing together in Serbia, during 6 days, 20 young people between 16-25 years old from Portugal, Italy, Serbia, Bosnia and Herzegovina which, through a set of non-formal education activities, will explore the interdependence between environmental issues and the safeguarding of human rights. It will specially promote the debate on how environmental matters can affect human right issues and analyze how a sustainable development approach can contribute to promote human rights.

The main objectives of the exchange are: to raise awareness on human rights and environmental issues; share best practices in order to increase youth participation in topics related to the Sustainable Development; provide a multicultural environment where young people can experience the process of intercultural learning through the use of non-formal education activities (such as role-plays, artistic workshops, forum theatre, open air-activities and others).

TITLE:	"Open your eyes! You need to know! - Mobilizing the community to combat human trafficking"

DESCRIPTION:	Every year two million young people worldwide fall prey to human trafficking. An estimated 120.000 girls aged between 15 and 35 coming from former Eastern bloc countries, that is, from Central-, Southeast- and Northeast Europe, leave westwards in search of a better life, fleeing poverty, starvation and social exclusion, 6.000 of whom go through the excruciating distress of being sold into prostitution. Thus, human trafficking has been identified internationally as one of the major issues of concern. The program Open your eyes! You need to know! Mobilizing the community to combat human trafficking aims at raising the awareness of young people in 9 countries (46 participants) on the issue of human trafficking, especially that of young girls and boys as the most vulnerable category, through informing, educating and making them aware, with a view to eliminating human trafficking. The project is expected to motivate young people into assuming an active role in bringing about changes in their own respective areas of residence, and to encourage them to creative action with an eye to putting an end to human trafficking. Our plan is to bring into one place, in Vrnja ka Banja, in Serbia, young people from 9 countries so as to arrange a performance simulating human trafficking and organ theft, as well as all forms of exploitation (forced labour, sex trafficking, trafficking for use in begging, etc.). The performance itself is to take place at the public market, the town square and school, so that there may occur an interaction with the local young, the program thus gaining added importance. All activities are to receive media coverage. Project duration is from 1st December 2010 to 31st March 2011.

TITLE:	YE Social inclusion photography : I have a dream!

DESCRIPTION: This youth exchange " Social inclusion photography: I have a dream!" will seek to advance the state of the art-photography, by examining the relationship between poverty, inequality and social exclusion of individuals, households and groups, recognising what is a cause and consequence of poverty, inequality and social exclusion in general. The aim of this youth exchange is to raise awareness for the socially excluded groups in Europe. The participants would compare photographs, and would post them on the organizations blogs and web pages. The participants on this exchange would learn about cultural diversity and anti-discrimination using visual tools and creative, interactive methods. The extent and seriousness of the problem is often not well understood either by policy makers or the general public. As a result sufficient urgency is not given to its eradication. To ensure the quality of the exposition there will be organized several workshops and sessions where participants will develop their creative and technical skills in photography. The final days of the youth exchange will be used for presentation of the photographs taken to the public eyes. This, we hope, will provoke reactions from everyone who would see how young people see socially excluded groups in societies.
The venue of the project is the city of Struga, and would take place from 01-09 April 2011 with participants from 8 countries (Macedonia, Albania, Serbia, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Czech Republic, Italy and Latvia).

TITLE:	Lets Plant a Tree

DESCRIPTION:	Trees - they are all around us. They are part of our community, of our yard, of our life. Trees alter the environment in which we live by moderating climate, improving air quality, conserving water, and harbouring wildlife. Climate control is obtained by moderating the effects of sun, wind, and rain. Radiant energy from the sun is absorbed or deflected by leaves on deciduous trees in the summer and is only filtered by branches of deciduous trees in winter. We are cooler when we stand in the shade of trees and are not exposed to direct sunlight. Trees have a big effect in our lives. Do we know their role? What will be life without trees? Why the old people usually say - plant a tree - plant your future? These are the questions that we will raise during the Youth exchange - "Lets Plant a Tree". Youth exchange "Lets Plant a tree" will take place with 30 participants from Macedonia, FYR, Serbia, Romania, France, Bosnia and Bulgaria will discover the meaning of trees in our lives and later decide to plant a tree for their future. For 8 days this youngsters will work on discovering the importance of trees, trees that Europe as a continent share, discovering diversity in trees and diversity in Europe, developing intercultural understanding and dialogue and at the same time planting their future. Final results of the project will be a local action for planting trees in the local community and local promotion on how important is planting trees for us; published booklet - explaining what the youngsters have learned during the exchange, easy and enjoyable to read; film that will speak about the exchange itself.

TITLE:	"Let's Be Active! Tools be effective in our local community"
---------------	---

DESCRIPTION:	"Let's Be Active! Tools to be effective in our local community" aims at increasing the organizations' management capacity in projects between EU and SEE countries by offering the participants advanced tools and new contacts. We want to increase the cooperation between youth organizations from EU countries and youth organizations from SEE countries augmenting their capability of managing projects. The need to realize a training course of this kind comes from the analysis on the management of the youth projects. A lot of projects start from very good ideas and have very good purposes and objectives but most of the times they don't reach their goal because of misleading planning and administration, or simply plenty of enthusiasm but lack of knowledge and experience. Focus will be put on Youth in Action projects but the basic "rules" will be applicable to every kind of projects. The acquisition of such competences will be useful for young people to apply it in their life and work, especially in a period in which unemployment has reached incredibly high numbers. The promotion of a tool like the Youthpass, to recognize these competences, will also be a key point. A general overview will be given and in detail all the steps in project planning, implementation and follow up will be analyzed. Financial management will be also an important part of the program. It's addressed to youth leaders and youth workers and aims to provide them with skills and competences to apply and manage projects that meet the needs of their NGO and of their local community. We will focus both on the realization of projects at local level, and at international level creating cooperation between EU and SEE countries, and the special tools that exist for this. Non formal education is the methodology on which the training course is based. Examples and best practices will be analyzed; simulations and role plays will be used as educational tools. The project will be also an opportunity to build a network among organizations active in the youth field, to exchange experiences and make new contacts. The mix of cultures will facilitate intercultural dialogue and understanding.

TITLE:	Distorted Realities

DESCRIPTION: Main focus of the study visit is anti-discrimination and work with target groups that face social stigmatization. Project is called Distorted Realities because stigma could be defined as the process by which the reaction of others spoils normal identity. Stigma is linked to construction of stereotypes, to oversimplified beliefs about characteristics and differences of some particular social groups, and leads to separation of labelled persons into distinct groups, and disapproval, rejection, exclusion, and discrimination. It is a process when distorted knowledge causes violations of human rights and deepens social problems. Main aim of this project is to explore concept of social stigma, gain better understanding about mechanisms of stigmatization and exchange experiences, best practices and tools that can be used to combat and remove stigmas. ---------------	-----------------------------------

DESCRIPTION: This training course shall bring together young motivated youth workers and leaders from SEE and EU countries, in a 7 days program hosted in Albania, to have a possibility to acquire more skills and abilities in entrepreneurship education. Having a motivation from all the youth activities organised from our association in cooperation with our partners from SEE and EU we believe that there is a strong power in the youth of today to be the actors of tomorrow. However this strong will has not all the knowledge in putting to life new enterprises, and there is not enough experience in a young person to take always the right decisions. This is why we designed this training course to offer them an incentive and in training them in some basic and more specific skills on what is entrepreneurship education, how to start small enterprises and knowledge how to plan the path to success, or what to know in advance in order to succeed. Moreover the participants of this training will be able to learn that entrepreneurship education seeks to prepare people, particularly youth, to be responsible, enterprising individuals who become entrepreneurs or entrepreneurial thinkers by immersing them in real life learning experiences where they can take risks, manage the results, and learn from the outcomes.

This training course will discuss the different and complex social contexts these youngsters come from in SEE and EU as well as provide valuable learning experiences for young people, develop their new media skills, intercultural communication skills and the ability to work in teams, developing the habit of staying involved in an activity on a regular basis or at least for some time, taking responsibility etc.

This training course will introduce youth workers and youth with less economical opportunities from the Programme (UK, Portugal, Greece, France) and South East European (Bosnia-Herzegovina, Macedonia, Montenegro, Croatia, Serbia) countries to the specific methodology of video advocacy as well as with the hands-on-knowledge on the distribution and production practices of this kind of media that the new technologies offer to the third sector. The training will be held in Belgrade, Serbia, and led by the organizing team of Vega Youth Center as well as by trainers from the Undercurrents NGO from Swansea, UK.

Through this seven day training, youngsters and their mentors will work together on the creation of video advocacy documentary which will represent the voices of marginalized urban youth communities in the urban settings of Belgrade, Serbia.

The European dimension of the project is grounded in the set of values that are represented through the methodology, contents and the outcomes of this workshop - promoting cultural diversity, human rights and social education through creative practice. The team of trainers, organizers and participants will also add an intercultural quality to the learning/creative process and the expected production.

TITLE:	Let's perform it with Socrates - training for democratic citizenship

DESCRIPTION: In regards to experience of project partners in youth work, we notices in last few years in both EU and SEE that young people can be active and make sustainable changes mainly if they are part of some public institutions or a political party. The problem is that this forms are active citizenship are not interesting for young people and as a result, fewer and fewer people are taking part in elections or joining political parties, trades unions and even NGOs. At the same time small independent initiative of young people, which means unrestrained activism, is rarely stimulated by the state and the local community.

Concerning the above mentioned problem we developed a training course with the aim to examine what are challenges of democracy in life of youth in Europe today and how young people could foster critical opinion and act to present their opinion about social phenomenon in their countries. Important part of the project is training for using performance as a way of expressing that critical opinion and addressing important issues for young people. We think that young people have lot to say, and that performance, as contemporary form of expressing, gives a possibility for more freely way of communication with surrounding.

This training will offer youth workers and young artist from 8 EU and SEE countries (Romania, Slovenia, Italy, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Montenegro, Ireland and FYROM) who work with youth the skills on how to use the performances as the tool for work with young people and the way on how youth organizations can address important social subjects through Active citizenship. The participants would be trained to use the performances in big events, in the street, in a subway and in any place where bug number of young people are present. That way, performances become an important tool for advocacy and awareness raising and showing critical opinion of young people.

At the end of the training, participants will develop and implement a Performance in Serbia that will be their own critical message about position of democracy in their countries.

TITLE:	Reaching for diversity : the search for volunteers

DESCRIPTION: The long-term youth exchanges organised by national Youth For Understanding (YFU) organisations are made possible by networks of young volunteers who prepare and support the exchanges. It is part of both the mission and values of the organisation of YFU organisations to promote active citizenship by reaching out to young people and involving them in volunteer work. However, reaching out proves to be a continual and common challenge within the European network. In addition, finding ways to promote youth participation and involve young people from diverse backgrounds in volunteering is too often seen as a peripheral issue no one seems to have time to solve.

The training Reaching for diversity - the search for volunteers will gather together 20 youth workers for five days in Antalya, Turkey and will aim to increase the knowledge and attitudes necessary for them to reach out and include a large diversity of young people in volunteer work. Using non-formal learning methods to develop specific skills, the training will enable participants to use more inclusive methods to both involve new volunteers and integrate them into volunteer work. The training will also provide space to exchange best practices and methods for involving and integrating young people into volunteer work as well as introduce participants to new and more inclusive approaches of promoting active citizenship. In the long term, this training will aim to help YFU organisations increase quality support structures to new volunteers as well as promote a larger diversity within the network.

DESCRIPTION: Following the outcomes of several consultations and work on organisational priorities, it has become clear that EEE-YFU should become a greater facilitator of horizontal co-operation between its European member youth organisations, specifically in the form of projects. At the same time YFU is faced with the challenge of integrating new social networking and web 2.0 technologies into its field of work. So, during three days in Budapest, Hungary, the Open Networking and Synergy Feasibility Meeting will seek to identify synergies between 14 local European youth workers from Austria, Bulgaria, Czech Republic, Estonia, France, Germany, Hungary, Lithuania, Norway and Turkey, and allow them the space to develop a deep and mutual understanding of each other's local youth work, learn about the possibilities of the YiA programme and develop projects together, both in topics they identify and in the area of new web technologies. Participants will be involved in an intensive Preparatory Process, using online tools, to ensure the results of the meeting also reflect the needs of the volunteers' organisations. The feasibility meeting itself will employ highly interactive, non-formal methods. The same tools and approach will also be used to follow-up the meeting and the resulting projects.

TITLE: Safe healthy and sustainable educational environments: designing the school of tomorrow 6th European School Student Convention

DESCRIPTION: The 6th European School Student Convention will focus on the theme of educational environment. The event will take place in Dublin, Ireland, from the 3rd to the 7th of December 2010 and will gather around 50 participants from more than 20 countries. The definition of "educational environment" includes a wide range of issues related to both the physical and the psychological factors which contribute to the learning process. OBESSU believes that the environment where education takes place is fundamental for achieving the set learning objectives but also in order to safeguard the health and well-being of school students.

From our point of view, too little attention is paid to the factors influencing education and its outcomes and that, in particular, not enough consideration is given to the "less visible" aspects that influence learning and the well-being of school students.

OBESSU considers an healthy and positive environment as an important factor to combat poverty and social exclusion in education as well as to contribute to youth employment. An environment with high quality standards, in fact, consistently contributes to the learning process and to the better acquisition of skills and competences. It will moreover foster the personal development of school students. All those features will in the long-run improve the employability of young people.

The Convention has, thus, the objective to offer school students a deeper understanding of the topic and aims at developing tools which will serve to improve educational environments throughout Europe.
